

WESTERN SYDNEY
UNIVERSITY

BUILDING A
ELECTRICAL METER PANEL

Articulating Value in Housing Cooperatives

Project team members

A/Prof Louise Crabtree
Team leader

Institute for Culture and Society,
Western Sydney University

Dr Emma Power

School of Social Sciences &
Institute for Culture and Society,
Western Sydney University

Ms Bronwyn Bate

Institute for Culture and Society,
Western Sydney University

Prof. Wendy Stone

Centre for Urban Transitions
Swinburne University of Technology

Dr Sidsel Grimstad

Newcastle Business School
University of Newcastle Australia

Dr Piret Veeroja

Centre for Urban Transitions
Swinburne University of Technology

Dr Neil Perry

School of Business &
Institute for Culture and Society
Western Sydney University

Research assistant TBC

Newcastle Business School
University of Newcastle Australia

Articulating value in housing cooperatives

Project aim:

- Identify the benefits/values generated by housing cooperatives and how those are created
- This includes the work of residents in creating those benefits

Three tools to be built and used in the project:

1. Worksheet about the amount of time spent on coop tasks
2. Resident survey about performing those tasks and living in a coop
3. Resident interviews about experiences of participating and living in a coop

How you can take part

Methods:

- Worksheet
 - Pilot version including development and review
 - Full version
- Survey
 - Pilot version including development and review
 - Full version
- Interview

Governance:

- Pilot coops can join project advisory group
- Updates and feedback at regionals, AGMs, and conferences

Next steps

- Information on participation options and contact details will be circulated
- More information:
 - Bronwyn Bate: b.bate@westernsydney.edu.au
 - Louise Crabtree: l.crabtree@westernsydney.edu.au

